

Project Lead (m/w/d) Decarbonization Solutions

Do you bring practical experience and expertise on carbon markets and climate reporting? Are you eager to lead corporate projects on decarbonization and CO₂ management? And do you want to help shape a growing company? Then this position might fit.

You are:

- Knowledgeable expert in technical issues related to carbon pricing (such as CO₂ taxes, cap-and-trade, CBAM), carbon markets (compliance or voluntary), carbon reporting (e.g., GHGP, ISO, SBTi, CDP) and/or decarbonization funding programs
- Proficient in translating climate policy into decarbonization or CO₂ management action in companies in industry, energy, buildings, transport and/or agriculture & forestry
- Data-oriented using quantitative results to develop corporate recommendations for action
- Convincing also towards corporate decision makers with fluent communication in English and German language
- Experienced project manager who knows how to deliver results for clients – as demonstrated in previous consulting roles

You want:

- New challenges where you can help shape the business areas and direction of a growing company in the data science and climate-space
- A lead role that you can form and expand into a sought-after expert in your industry or area of expertise and build your team
- Independent work with full ownership of your projects and freedom to develop new business areas
- A flexible role (based in Berlin), in which you can arrange your working hours and location(s) to fit your personal needs
- A dynamic and collaborative work environment where diversity, openness and trust are our core values

We offer:

- Fully integrated business areas offering advisory and analytics for climate strategy, carbon reporting and certificate management

- End-to-end project responsibility from customer acquisition and development, over strategy and data analyses to solution implementation
- Opportunities to grow with us and take on team lead roles supporting our leadership team
- Insights into the joys and pitfalls of starting a business
- A hybrid work environment with a working space at the heart of Berlin-Kreuzberg
- A startup-competitive fixed salary with a performance-based bonus

We are:

- A boutique advisory and analytics company that makes the economics of carbon count
- Strategic enablers of decarbonization journeys and CO2 management in all net-zero relevant industry and market segments
- Data-driven analysts who bring together business-relevant data on climate policy, carbon pricing and green markets
- Trusted advisors who make tailored solutions from overarching corporate strategies to optimization tools
- A growing team with a track-record in management consulting, energy industry, (angel) investments, and international climate policy (UN and World Bank)

Is there a fit?

Then email us your CV via hr@co2iq.de and we arrange a first (virtual) chat to get to know each other. More info at www.co2iq.de. Please understand that we can only answer candidates with matching profiles.